Hugh Boddington was looking for spare clips but had been unable to get them from the usual RV8 spares specialists and then saw them in a magazine supplied by classic car parts supplier, Bresco Vehicle Services Limited at Loughborough. Hugh says "the female part is identical but the screw is 1/4" longer and the head is not smooth/but patterned."

The clips are for the bulkhead in the boot of an RV8 to hold the carpet and board in position. There are four fasteners required. They are also used to keep the carpet in position behind the number plate area.
